Wiki

What is wiki in plain English from Block... youtube site.

This site, which you are reading right now, is also wiki. Perhaps the most famous wiki is  the Wikipedia (http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Main\_Page).

An example of collective knowledge

The screenshot shows the Springnote Wiki interface. A yellow callout box titled "Dashboard" is overlaid on the main content area. The callout text reads: "Dashboard is an area where you can see the current status of notebooks you own, pages that others have shared, joined Group Notebooks, and notebooks on your Watch List! You can go to your Dashboard at anytime by clicking the My Dashboard link on the Global Navigation Bar." The callout box also contains a small "Dashboard" widget with tabs for "Dashboard", "My Notebooks", "Group Notebooks", and "Watch List". The background shows the main page of the "Notebook wiki for science communication" with sections for "Recent Updates", "Main page", "Group members", and "Bulletin".

Springnote example 5

The main content area features a header section with a "Science communication" icon and a "Notice" section. The "Science communication" section contains a text block that says: "This page is for science communicators who are interested in building base on and about scientific knowledge." A tooltip labeled "Block..." is visible over this text. The "Notice" section lists: "Main page", "Categories", "Group members", and "Bulletin".

Below the header is a "Main page" section with a table containing three columns: "Nuclear", "Space-ship", and "Climate". Each column has a list of bullet points. Below the table is a "Group members" section with roles: "Leader:", "Assistant:", "Accountant:", and "Other members:". Below that is a "Bulletin" section with instructions: "Write important bulletins here.", "Strikeout completed tasks by using keyboard shortcut Ctrl + K", and "Leave comments by using the Tab key."

The bottom of the interface shows a "Tags" section, a "Members (1) Manage | Invite" link, and a "Settings" link. The footer indicates "Last edited on Oct 30, 2006 18:11 by hkinwcl".
